DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by Just et al, U. S. Patent 4,704,442(Just '442).

Reference to Just '442 teaches the claimed compositions using polymers with the same monomers as required by Applicants' claims, as can be seen in the reference in columns 1 and 2. The formula in column 1 has a clear typographical error as the Carbon under R4 should have a double bond to the right of it. This can be seen by the fact that there are only three bonds from the carbon as drawn and by the method of making and polymerizing the monomers, as well as the incorporation of the monomers taught in Just et al, U. S. Patent 4,705,885. Those monomers are drawn with the proper double bond. The reference to just '442, therefore, anticipates the claimed compositions, since it teaches the same polymers with the claimed monomers with the same curing agents, and also teaches the use as coatings, as seen in columns 5 and 6 of the reference.
